

The Institute of Noetic Sciences 13th International Conference

The time is now to join together in community to share our dreams, celebrate, and take action—co-creating a new vision for our shared future.

- Explore the forefront of positive transformation with some of the most inspiring teachers from the world's cultural traditions.
- Learn how the meeting of science and spirituality can ground a new and sustainable course of action for our common work.
- Gain penetrating insights from pioneers in science, health, business, education, media, and the environmental movement.
- Engage in creative dialogue with other participants about how each of us is creating life-affirming changes in the world.

Toward a Global Shift takes a cross-disciplinary and integrative approach that will include exciting speakers, interactive experiments in group synergy, collaborative inquiry, and collective transformation. The creation of a common field of intention will be grounded by inspired personal practices, soul-stirring music, and heartfelt performances.

Toward a Global Shift: Seeding the Field of Collective Change
